RE-SURFACING OF EMMITSBURG RD. NEARLY ENDED

The State Highway Department expects to complete the resurfacing of the Emmitsburg Rd. from the Peach Orchard to the borough line on Monday or Tuesday, and then will shift operations to a mile and a quarter stretch of highway from the New Oxford line to the Alwine Brick Co. Rd., J. William Kendlehart Jr., county superintendent of maintenance, said.

The resurfacing on the Emmitsburg Rd. will complete the job from the Maryland line to the Gettysburg line. Considerable work remains to be done on the shoulders of the stretch north from the Peach Orchard, Mr. Kendlehart said. When new curbs are completed from the Dave Oyer Garage south to the borough line, the state will widen and resurface this section.

To Surface Treat 50 Miles

Work is under way now on the curbing, and much of it has been completed. The highway, curb to curb, when completed, will be 38 feet in width. The state agreed to the widening if property owners built the curbs. Mr. Kendlehart said it would probably be August 1 or later before curbs are completed so the state can resurface this section.

The county maintenance crews will start soon on the annual surface treatment of state highways throughout the county. About 50 miles will be surface-treated this year, Mr. Kendlehart said.

The state has completed two new bridges and is working on a third at the present time. All three are 14-foot steel and concrete spans. One has been completed on the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd., another near Camp Nawakwa and the one now being built is on the Harrisburg-Bender's Church Rd.

ROKS REPULSE 4,000 COMMIES AFTER 7-HOUR BITTER FIGHT

SEOUL (A)—South Korean infantrymen, in seven hours of bitter fighting, drove off more than 4,000 Communists who assaulted ROK mainline positions along a four-mile front today in East-Central Korea.

In the air, Red night fighters attacked Allied B-29s bombing a newly repaired bridge network deep in Northwest Korea which funnels Red supplies into Korea from Manchuria.

All Planes Return

The Red jet fighters sprayed with cannon fire seven of 18 B-29s which slammed 160 tons of bombs at wood and steel bridges spanning the Chongchon River. Red anti-aircraft batteries also opened up on the superforts, which were outlined with searchlights.

All the bombers returned to their base in Japan, the Air Force said. Two Chinese battalions—totaling up to 1,500 men—swept past a ROK outpost on the East-Central front, then rammed Allied lines 900 yards apart in a pincer movement.

The assault hit the ROK Sixth Division guarding the front south-east of Kumsong.

Fighting At Porkchop

The Reds reinforced one side of the attack force with about 300 men, but the last Chinese battalion withdrew after seven hours of furious fighting.

U. S. Seventh Division infantrymen defending besieged Porkchop Hill 40 miles north of Seoul fought hand-to-hand in trenches with about 200 Reds battling to expand their hold on the outpost.

At last report, the Reds held three bunkers on Porkchop, the scene of savage fighting since the Reds launched attacks there five days ago.

Deposed Soviet Leader And Successor

Lavrenty P. Beria, left, one of the Kremlin's Big Three since the death of Stalin, has been fired as chief of the secret police and is being held for a trial as a traitor, according to a Moscow radio announcement. The Moscow radio said further that Sergei Nikolovich Kruglov, right, has been appointed to succeed Beria as Minister of Home Affairs.

Here And There News Collected At Random

One of the strangest tragedies ever reported occurred in the summer of 1888 when a train began its run between San Luis Potosi and Tampico, Mexico. The road was brand-new and this was the first train to travel the line. Nothing unusual happened for the first one hundred miles. Then near Zacate, where the track lay in one switchback after another, the locomotive and several cars left the track and disappeared into La Olla Del Zacate, The Zacate Pit.

Investigators found two of the train's cars hanging precariously on the lip of the pit. A rescue crew and crane, called to the scene probed for the missing train and its crew. Men were let down hundreds of feet on cables into the pit, but they found nothing. At last they gave up the search and began trying to salvage the two remaining cars. The tragedy struck again. The crane with its six-man crew toppled from the track and disappeared into the seemingly bottomless hole! None of them were ever found and witnesses swore they never heard the crane hit bottom. The line was promptly abandoned and no train traversed its full length for more than fifty years!

Expect Broad Reforms As Aftermath Of Beria Purge

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
MOSCOW (A)—Western observers believe Soviet leaders plan to announce broad reforms affecting millions of citizens as an aftermath of Lavrenty P. Beria's ouster. This opinion was expressed as the Russian press today reported widespread popular denunciation of the former deputy premier as an enemy of the people.

The reforms were expected to include important changes in the administration of Soviet law and agricultural policies, as well as price cuts and moves to increase the Russian standard of living.

People "Warmly Approve"
An editorial in the Communist party newspaper Pravda gave support to the view that some changes were in the wind. It charged Beria had used his power as first deputy premier and police chief to block "important and urgent" measures in agriculture and law reform.

With his removal it seemed logical that the government would go ahead with these measures.

Pravda also claimed the entire Soviet people warmly approved the actions of the party and the government against Beria, fired from the party and government as an "agent of international imperialism."

Millions and millions of Soviet people "wrathfully condemn the criminal actions of the inveterate enemy of the people and the party, Beria, and call for intensification of revolutionary vigilance," the newspaper declared.

No Policy Reversals
Western sources here expressed the view that Beria's ouster did not indicate any policy reversals by Premier Malenkov's government, but rather a strengthening of those policies.

(Western European diplomatic sources also speculated that the purge of the former police czar did not indicate any change in Russian foreign policy. But the Big Three foreign ministers, meeting in Washington, reportedly agreed that it might foreshadow a turnabout in the Kremlin's recent conciliatory attitude to the West.)

(As police chief, Beria had the job of keeping the satellite states in line and presumably will be made the scapegoat for the unrest that has been sweeping the peoples of those nations.)

CONGRATULATE IKE ON YEAR OF ACHIEVEMENT

Adams County today joined the rest of the nation in offering its congratulations to President Dwight D. Eisenhower on the completion of his first year as head of the Republican Party.

It was one year ago today that Mr. Eisenhower was given the Republican nomination for president at the National Convention of this party in Chicago, and thus became the titular head of the GOP.

Among other congratulations sent to the President today was the following telegram from John H. Basehore, chairman of the Adams County Republican Committee:

"Almost every citizen of Adams County would join me in this message congratulating you on a year of unparalleled achievement. We feel that your high idealism, your demonstrated integrity, your sympathetic love for and understanding of your fellowman, and your driving determination have provided new hope and inspired leadership for free peoples everywhere. Count on your neighbors here to follow toward those goals you have pointed out for America."

Adams Countians have more than usual interest in Mr. Eisenhower because of several factors: He was commander of Camp Colt here during World War I, during which time he became acquainted with many Adams County residents; he was commencement speaker at a Gettysburg College graduation, and he owns a farm close to Gettysburg adjoining the battlefield.

Korean Truce Area Has Been Cleaned Up

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — This Western sector of the Korean war is almost too neat and has a disturbing appearance of permanence. Except for destroyed buildings on the 45-mile drive from Seoul to Panmunjom, it is hard to find the dirt of war. This road once was cluttered with burned tank hulls, trucks, jeeps, ammunition cans and empty gasoline drums.

Now the roadside is liberally sprinkled with signs reading: "Don't throw trash." "Speed limit 20 miles an hour." Overhead, U.S. helicopters scurry south with victims of Communist artillery and mortar fire.

At the first session of the new bicycle court seven respondents pleaded guilty to violations of the bicycle ordinance. Sentences ranged from suspension of the right to ride a bicycle for a week to making two or three copies of the ordinance rules and regulations.

Complaints included riding a bike on the sidewalk, riding a bicycle, or not having proper registration, lights or horn.

Police Captain George Conner, who is in charge of the bicycle patrol, reports that he has received fine cooperation from the parents of the young offenders.

Jury Gives Damages To Both Litigants

DENVER (AP) — You can't do that — but the jury did. Judge Robert W. Steele of district court rubbed his eyes and blinked as he read a verdict returned by a jury. The verdict was in favor of a woman who sued for damages due to a car collision also returned a verdict in favor of the man she sued.

The judge called the jury back into court and patiently explained that in a law suit, only one side can win, not both. The jurors retired again and awarded the woman damages for an injury.

APPLE POLISH RESEARCH TOPIC

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Apple polishing has attracted the attention of research men at the Pennsylvania State College.

W. A. Chandler, instructor in plant pathology, and Dr. Henry W. Thurston Jr., professor of plant pathology, point out that in field evaluation of sprays for apples, attention is being focused more and more on the effects of various materials on fruit quality and "finish."

In many recent experiments, sprays have been found to result in crops with low incidence of disease, insect blemishes, and russeting, but visible differences in the finish on the apple have been encountered.

To study the finish, the Penn State research men use a Photovolt glossmeter. It consists of a galvanometer and a search unit which contains a photoelectric cell, an incandescent lamp, and a system of mirrors.

Since the instrument is designed for use on flat surfaces, it cannot be used with whole apples. Therefore, a strip of skin is peeled from the apple and is laid flat over the opening of the search unit.

With a method developed for measuring gloss on the apple, orchardists will be paying more and more attention to "apple polishing" when planning the apple-spraying program.

California Oil Well Is Deep Down

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The deepest oil well in California is down 18,781 feet, or more than 3½ miles. An Ohio Oil Company spokesman said the depth broke the previous state record set by Superior Oil's Limoneira No. 1 in Ventura County, which bottomed at 18,734 feet before it was abandoned in 1949.

He did not say how much deeper the record breaker would be sunk. Only two wells have gone deeper than the Ohio Company well, he said.

Superior's Pacific Creek well in Sublette County, Wyoming, set the world mark in 1950 at 20,251 feet. It later was abandoned as a dry hole.

The second deepest well, he said, was a 20,450 foot "duster" drilled several years ago in Mississippi.

Mission Group Meets

"Who Cares About The Indians" was the subject for discussion at the July meeting of the Alta Hummer Society of St. John's Lutheran Church, held on Thursday evening at the church. Readings on the topic were given by several of the members and Mrs. Paul E. King, leader for the evening, led the discussion. A song was followed with the Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. King. The missionary benediction was repeated in unison and the program concluded with a magazine quiz.

Mrs. Samuel Renner, president, presided at the business session. It was decided that the society will conduct a fish pond and white elephant table in connection with the Big 3 Foreign Ministers Look To Moscow Embassies For Light On Beria Purge

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Big Three Western foreign ministers look to reports from their embassies in Moscow today to throw fresh light on the dramatic Beria purge before they try finally to assess its importance to free world policies.

Under summons from Secretary of State Dulles, U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen was flying home to report.

Bohlen had just arrived in Paris from Moscow for a vacation. The State Department said he had foreseen and reported a week ago the probabilities for the downfall of Lavrenty P. Beria as Russia's No. 2 man and rival for power of Premier Georgi Malenkov.

See Tough Policy

In their initial discussions, Dulles, Foreign Secretary Salisbury of Britain and French Minister Bidault were reported to have agreed yesterday that the affair might mean a return by Moscow to a tougher policy toward the West and harsher rule for the captive Communist lands of Eastern Europe.

In the midst of the Big Three discussions in Washington, President Eisenhower made a dramatic offer of 15 million dollars worth of food to be sent immediately to the people of East Germany, where Soviet tanks have had to be used to quell riots against the Communist regime.

The offer of grains, fats and other commodities, to come largely out of government-owned surpluses, was made to the USSR as the occupying power in East Germany, not to the Soviet-backed East German government, unrecognized by the United States.

Thus the Soviets were given a choice of admitting the food from a country ceaselessly labeled in Communist propaganda as an imperialist menace, or refusing and risking the heightened resentment of hungry Germans.

The foreign ministers discussed German problems at their meeting yesterday, specifically unification and the proposed role of Germany in Western defense. The conversations also touched on the postponed Bermuda conference and suggestions for top level meetings with Malenkov.

This afternoon Dulles and Salisbury meet on Anglo-American problems with the probability that Britain's troubles with Egypt and American hopes for their settlement would take up much of the time.

Tonight Dulles will meet with the two foreign ministers at dinner at his home. Later Salisbury will go to Newport, R. I., for a Sunday visit with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, who is recovering from a series of operations.

Melvin A. Dry Is New Coach at Local High School: Melvin A. Dry, Bellefonte, a graduate of Lock Haven State Teachers College in January and a teacher and assistant coach at Lock Haven High School since December, 1942, has been named coach and physical education instructor at Gettysburg High School to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George S. Forney who was called into active service with the U. S. Navy.

The election of the new coach guarantees competitive sports at the high school this year, Superintendent Lloyd C. Keefe said today. Difficultly in obtaining a coach previously had led the school board to consider dropping sports from the school calendar. Whether any great number of inter-league games will be held this year, will depend on transportation. Last year a shortened schedule was followed because of gasoline rationing.

The school board granted a military leave of absence to Miss Miriam Waltemyer who recently joined the WAVES. Board president Ralph Z. Oyer presided.

Lt. Francis Weds Today: Lt. Geraldine Francis, daughter of Mrs. Paul Kebl, Fairfield, and Joseph Imber, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Imber, Harrisburg, were united at a nuptial mass this morning at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield, by the Rev. Joseph Gotwald. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kebl.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg High School and studied nursing at a Harrisburg hospital. She is now an army nurse and is stationed at St. Petersburg, Fla., and is now on a ten-day leave. Mr. Imber is an instrument mechanic for the Atlantic Refining Co. of Philadelphia. The couple has left on a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains.

David C. Stoner Given Promotion: Dr. David C. Stoner, son of Mrs. C. A. Stoner, Baltimore St., has been promoted to Lieutenant-Commander in the U. S. Navy. Lt. Com. Stoner is a graduate of Gettysburg College and the University of Pennsylvania. He is now stationed in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Stoner is the former Miss Bette Miller, daughter of Mrs. Anna Miller, W. Middle St.

Turnpike-Maryland Link May Cross County: The probability that Gettysburg and Adams County may receive a share of the $268,000,000 post war road construction program planned for Pennsylvania by the State Department of Highways loomed today in an announcement that plans include construction of a 45-mile stretch connecting the Pennsylvania Turnpike with the Maryland line.

The Gettysburg Times queried the Highway Department this morning for information on the proposed route for the highway link but was told by C. H. Buckius, chief engineer, that no information is available now on exact routes to be followed by the proposed road. "The plans are only in preliminary stages and will require a great deal of work and study before any of the details will be complete."

UNAPOCS Re-elect Snyder to Office: Jesse E. Snyder, Baltimore St., was re-elected first vice president of the Pennsylvania branch of the United National Association of Post Office Clerks at the annual convention held over the Fourth of July weekend at Johnstown. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were the only delegates at the convention from Adams County with Mr. Snyder representing the Gettysburg branch of post office clerks.

Women Named to Welfare Board: Mrs. Henry T. Bream, Gettysburg, and Mrs. Wilbur H. Miller, New Oxford, were named members of the advisory board of the Adams County Child Welfare Services Tuesday evening. Both were approved for the post this morning by the Adams County commissioners. The new members filled the unexpired terms of Miss Katherine Alwine, New Oxford, and Mrs. John S. Rice.

New Curfew Is Studied Here: The question of whether Gettysburg should adopt a curfew rule was laid before the council Wednesday.

GROWTH

Although a baby still is she,
Her love will soon divided be.
When, just a little older grown,
She'll want a puppy for her own,
And promptly that young spaniel smart
Will have a corner in her heart.

And there's a ragged Susan, too,
That she will love as babies do—
The doll of all her dolls whose lot
Will nightly be to share her cot;
The one that in her arms she'll keep
Until at last she falls asleep.

I know full well as time goes by
That learn to share her love must I;

That in the years that lie beyond
Are those of whom she will grow fond.

But still I hope there'll always be
A corner in her heart for me.

MEMORIES TO KEEP

I have never understood why it is that so many people harp upon bringing to light unhappy memories. Isn't it enough to bring up the happy ones — those by which our lives are enriched? The happy memories are those which I like to keep, watering them as I would a garden.

Speculate upon the event should we be able to recall no happy memories at all. Then what? The cream of the joy and beauty of our lives would be gone. It's these happy memories that give zest and hope to every one of our days. If we honestly appraise our memories, the happy ones far outnumber the unhappy ones.

It's the happy memories, kept alive, that make love so triumphant. The unhappy memories keep blotting out love. Happy memories have a constructive power. They keep reminding us that they are the only ones we should keep fresh. How often we can at will return to the happy days of youth, to scenes that have given us delight. Many of these memories can be supplemented to new ones of a similar character.

If you should sit and listen to the story of a person's life, it would be the story of his memories. That is mostly what biography has to tell. And that which is written about and recorded are the happy and significant memories. How very familiar are these words, "I remember." I have an interesting sun dial, and on it is engraved: "I record only the sunny hours." Wouldn't that be a wonderful title to be engraved upon our minds, substituting the words, "happy memories" for "sunny hours"? Thus would the line appear: "I record only the happy memories." This can be done if we will. We can keep crowding out all unhappy memories. And we would be happier human beings if we did this!

The present 1913 ordinance ruling boys under 15 and girls under 20 off the streets after 9 p.m. was described as "not adequate" by Mr. Pfeffer who said a new measure being circulated by the state department of the interior as a model is a uniform age limit of 17 years and sets the curfew hour at 10 p.m. among other provisions.

In the brief that the matter is one in which "snap judgment" should not be passed, the Burgess says that he has asked borough officers to observe nocturnal juvenile activities during July. Reports to date show, he said, that a comparative few youngsters are on the streets in late hours of the night.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Armed troops patrolled the downtown streets today as police combed this Central California city of 92,000 for a maniacal firebug whose torch plunged the community into a near panic.

Loiterers and casual passersby were ordered out of a 32-block downtown area in the wake of 12 fires which broke out almost simultaneously in major buildings yesterday amid a rash of false alarms.

Mayor Gordon Dunn declared a state of emergency. And Gov. Earl Warren authorized use of volunteering National Guardsmen. The troops stood guard through the night to prevent looting and further arson at hospitals, schools and other public buildings.

More than 20 firemen overcome by heat or smoke were hospitalized, but there were no other reported injuries. Damage was estimated upwards of $800,000.

When the first railroad was built in China in 1876 it aroused such a storm of superstition and protest that the government was forced to tear up the rails and run the smoking steam "dragons" — locomotives — into the river!

Similar opposition faced the first railroads in India. The problem was solved by allowing fakirs and holy men to ride free so they wouldn't curse the train and bring it to a standstill.

One of the strangest collisions on record involved an express train and a river barge. It happened Nov. 16, 1950, on the CB&Q line near Keokuk, Iowa.

A towboat was churning its way down the Mississippi, pushing a long string of empty barges ahead of it. The leading barges began to veer sideways and, before the towboat pilot could correct it, the first barge slid up onto the river bank and stopped a few inches from the railroad tracks. At the same time, an express came roaring around a nearby curve and crashed into the barge.

Within a minute or less the towboat had gone into reverse and pulled the wayward barge back into the water. The boat crew was unaware of the collision until they docked later that afternoon twenty miles down the river; this despite the fact that the locomotive and baggage car had been derailed by the impact.

Giants Make It Seven Straight As Maglie Beats Brooklyn 6-1; Raffensperger Gets 31st Shutout

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Giants, who flourished in second division the first half of the season, suddenly have invited themselves into the National League pennant race with a seven game winning streak.

Starting with their 20-6 rout of the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday, the New Yorkers have gained such momentum during the week that they may roll into fourth place before the All-Star vacation which begins after tomorrow's games.

Last night they invaded the wilds of Brooklyn and mopped up on the Dodgers on their home grounds. They trail the first place Braves by 6½ games and meet them again today and tomorrow.

Sol Maglie Wins
Sol (The Barber) Maglie, who specializes in tormenting the Dodgers, gave them just six hits last night in a 6-1 triumph. The only thing the Dodgers salvaged was their home run hitting streak which they extended to 24 games—one short of the major league record—when Roy Campanella hit one in the second inning.

The loss cost Brooklyn a full game of its slender first place lead over the Milwaukee Braves who whipped third place St. Louis, 5-2. Despite six errors the Philadelphia Phillies clung to fourth place with a 13-3 decision over Pittsburgh.

Shutout For Kerr
Going into today's games the Dodgers hold a two game edge over the Braves, 3½ over the Cardinals and 5½ over Philadelphia.

Crafty Ken Raffensperger hurled his 31st major league shutout to give Cincinnati a 6-0 victory over Chicago in the front half of a twilight-night twin bill but a three-run homer by Ralph Kiner helped the Cubs win the nightcap, 4-3.

In the American League the leading New York Yankees gained a half game on their nearest rivals, the Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, who fought to a standstill in a doubleheader. The Yankees defeated Washington, 6-1. Cleveland beat Chicago 3-0 in 10 innings on Bobby Feller's first shutout in two seasons. The White Sox scored 10 runs in the seventh inning of the second game and won it easily, 6-5. Boston outlasted Philadelphia 3-2 in 12 innings and the St. Louis Browns, who haven't lost to the Tigers in Detroit this year, beat them again, 8-4.

11th For Spahn
The Yanks now lead by 5½. Warren Spahn posted his 11th victory of the season against only three losses at the expense of the Cardinals. Eddie Mathews hit his 26th home run for Milwaukee. The Phillies used 13 hits and four Pittsburgh errors to overcome their own horrible fielding, giving Curt Simmons his eighth victory and his first since late May.

Among active National League pitchers, only Dutch Leonard of the Cubs has pitched as many shutouts as Raffensperger. The Cincinnati left-hander holds one other National League record that he'd rather not mention. He's the losingest pitcher in the league, having dropped 145 decisions in his 14 seasons.

Feller Beats Pierce
Feller bested Billy Pierce in the first game at Chicago although Pierce had a no-hitter for seven innings. Luke Easter and Al Rosen drove in the three Cleveland runs in the top of the 10th.

The Yankees suddenly found their extra-base range against their old teammate Bob Porterfield, who gave up home runs to Irv Noren, Don Bollweg and Yogi Berra.

Ben Gets Cup First Try

Ben Hogan, U. S. Open champion, holds the British Open Golf Championship trophy at Carnoustie, Scotland, after winning the British title with a total score of 282. The Little Texan, weary to the point of near exhaustion and suffering from influenza, fired a record-breaking 68 on his last round to break the competitive course record.

HOGAN TAKES BRITISH OPEN ON FIRST TRY WITH 282 TOTAL

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (P)—Ben Hogan has proved, even to the skeptical Scots in this birthplace of the game, that he is the modern day wonder of golf.

The Texan, four times winner of the U. S. Open, shot a magnificent 282, four strokes better than anybody else at Carnoustie, to win the British Open Championship yesterday with a par busting final round of 68.

Through the stretch drive he ignored chills, influenza and aches from old injuries received in a 1949 auto accident to capture the coveted title in his first try—something no other American ever was able to do.

Hogan made sure he'd not have to take part in any 36-hole playoff as he blazed away with sub par golf. He was so spent after playing 72 holes in three days that it was questionable whether he could have gone any farther.

Coming off that last green, where he shot a birdie four and with the cheers of the crowd ringing in his ears, Hogan said: "I'm happy but so very, very tired. Don't even mention the possibility of a playoff. I don't think I can make it."

At that time, Antonio Cerdá of Argentina was a couple of two-strokes behind Hogan with a flickering chance to tie.

But Cerdá never came close. He finished with a 286 for a four-way tie for second with Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, amateur; Dai Rees, chubby, good-natured Welshman and Peter Thomson, Australia's promising young golfer.

Next came Roberto de Vincenzo of Argentina with a 287.

VIC SEIXAS TO FACE BURROWS

SPRING LAKE, N. J. (P)—Wimbledon Champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia today meets Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., in the semi-finals of the singles competition of the 50th annual Spring Lake Invitation Tennis Championships.

Second-seeded Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., is pitted against young Donald Flye, a junior at the University of Washington, in the other semi-final.

Seixas, the top-seeded entry, won the round-of-four berth yesterday by ousting Flye's teammate, Bill Quillian, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3. Mulloy had a scare before he completed the semi-final bracket. He had to play 22 games to beat Gene Garrett of San Diego, Calif., 6-0 9-7.

FISHERMEN FIND 2 DEAD OFFICERS

OIL CITY, Pa. (P)—Two fishermen found the bodies of two Naval officers in the wreckage of a naval trailing plane today in a wooded area off U. S. Rt. 62, seven miles southeast of this Northwestern Pennsylvania city.

State Police Sgt. George A. Sifter said the plane apparently crashed between 3 and 4 a. m. (EST). He said papers found in the wreckage indicate the flight originated from Floyd Bennett Airfield in New York.

Identities of the victims are being withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The two fishermen, Clarence Confer of Volant, Pa., and Nick Lovaglio, of New Castle, Pa., said they discovered the wreckage as they were en route to the Allegheny River.

Mrs. J. R. Mohnkern told police she and her husband, who live live within a quarter mile of the crash scene, heard a loud noise in the middle of the night but did not investigate.

Sifter said the craft apparently ran out of gasoline. There was no fire. One of the victims was still strapped to his seat. The other had been thrown clear of the wreckage.

66 WOMEN WILL PARTICIPATE IN GOLF TOURNEY

YORK, Pa. (P)—At least two former titlists will be among a field of 66 competing against defending champion Mrs. Mark Porter in the State Women's Amateur Golf Championships next week.

The 36-hole finals of the five day tournament to be held at the Country Club of York is set for Friday. Play opens Monday with an 18-hole qualifying round. The low 32 golfers will enter the championship flight.

Survivors of two 18-hole rounds of match play Wednesday enter semifinal play on Thursday.

Mrs. Porter, from the Riverton, N. J., Golf Club is expected to face her stiffest competition from the woman she beat out last year, Miss Betty Fehl of Reading.

Miss Fehl, who won the tourney several years ago, lost to Mrs. Porter 3 and 2 at the Plymouth Country Club, near Norristown. She is a four-time winner of the Central Pennsylvania title.

Mrs. John Gessler, another former state champ, also has forwarded her entry. Other players entered include Mrs. Lynn Creason of Harrisburg, Central Pennsylvania women's champ in recent years, and Ann Rutherford, Carlisle's classy teenage star.

7,000 ATTEND OPENING RACES ON NEW TRACK

A crowd of approximately 7,000 spectators attended the initial stock car racing program Friday evening at the new Lincoln Speedway, about a mile southwest of Abbotstown.

Mel Creiser, Annville, driving car No. 44, won the feature race after copping the second heat.

Leroy Felty, Reading, won the first heat with car No. 4 while the third heat was won by Jerry Benjamin, Rising Sun, Md., in car No. 14.

The consolation race was captured by Walt Reagan, Rising Sun, who drove car No. 65.

Bob Mundorff, York, escaped with minor injuries when his car nipped another car in the consolation race and turned over four times, being completely demolished.

During the evening there was a display of fireworks.

Stock car racing will be held each Friday evening at the speedway, the first race starting at 8:30 o'clock.

Helen Rife, New Oxford, president, has announced the erection of additional bleachers will be completed next week. He also reports that a new type of imported dirt, which eliminates dust, will be placed on the track before next week's program.

TRY TO IDENTIFY BODIES OF 14 FIRE VICTIMS

WILLOWS, Calif. (P)—Weary fire-fighters today sorted out the blackened bodies of 14 missionary trainees and a U. S. forest ranger who lost a race with an explosive forest fire near here.

Fellow trainees of the New Tribes Mission trouped to a mortuary here to start the grim task of identifying the men, who died while trying to stem the 1,200 acre timber blaze in the Mendocino National Forest yesterday.

The 15 were members of a 24-man fire-fighting party overtaken by flames which trapped them in a steep gulch. Nine scrambled up a mountain slope to safety just a few feet ahead of the racing fire.

They were found later in a pitifully huddled group. An attempt to dig last-minute foxholes had been fouled by the rocky earth.

The U. S. Forest Service called it the worst such tragedy in California history.

Factory Workers To Give Bird Funeral

DAVENPORT, Ia. (P)—Narcissus the meadowlark is gone but apparently he will not soon be forgotten.

The bird was found mortally wounded yesterday in front of an industrial plant where for nearly three weeks he had been seen daily singing to his reflection in an automobile hub cap.

"Somebody obviously had thrown a rock at him," Ronald Campbell, plant manager said. "We did everything we could but he didn't live long."

Campbell said he and his employees would see that there was a funeral and burial for Narcissus.

Speed Limit Boost Ready For Debate

HARRISBURG (P)—Proposed legislation to increase the legal automobile speed limit on selected highways of the state from 50 to 60 miles an hour is ready for debate in the Senate.

A bill offered by Rep. Harold G. Westcott (R—Susquehanna), gives the State Highways Secretary authority to lift the limit on dual highways outside urban areas.

Approval of the Senate Highways Committee was given the measure yesterday.

At present the top allowable speed on Pennsylvania highways is 50 miles per hour except on the Pennsylvania Turnpike. Half of the toll road has a 60 MPH limit and the other part a 70 MPH maximum for cars.

Search Wild Area For Missing B-29

SAVANNAH, Ga. (P)—Air Force search parties, joined by state, troopers and hundreds of civilian volunteers, tramped the wild, remote Ogeechee River area early today in an extensive hunt for a missing B-29 bomber.

The plane, with a crew of 10 aboard, was due at Hunter Air Force Base last night.

Col. Henry J. Amen, Hunter commander, would not confirm that the plane had crashed. But he sent out search units after getting reports that a large plane fell near Richmond Hill, a suburb of Savannah.

In other games, the league-leading Reading Indians edged the Wilkes-Barre Barons, 6-5, the Schenectady Blue Jays beat the Elmira Pioneers, 9-7, and the Binghamton Triplets nosed out the Albany Senators, 3-2.

At Williamsport, Dietzel's triple to the scoreboard broke up a pitching duel between Scranton's Ben Cardoni and Ozzie Van Brabant. Bill Stewart's home run was one of the six hits off Big Ben.

Relief Pitcher Mike Klesitz walked Rod Graber with the bases loaded in the ninth to force in the winning run at Reading, but the loss was Bill Fog's. Norm Camp, who joined the Indians yesterday on option from Indianapolis, gained the victory in relief.

French Assembly OK's Financial Measures

PARIS (P)—The French National Assembly gave final approval today to Premier Joseph Laniel's financial reform measures.

The Assembly approved the bill Wednesday and sent it to the Council of the Republic, the advisory upper house of Parliament, which yesterday knocked out new taxes on gasoline and alcohols, and made a few other changes.

In a brief session this morning, the Assembly re-passed the bill by a vote of 313 to 268 after restoring it almost to its original form. The second passage marks the final parliamentary action.

Get Special Data On Cook Forest

HARRISBURG (P)—A special report on a controversy over administration of the Cook Forest State Park in Northwestern Pennsylvania is expected to be ready early next month.

S. S. Lewis, State Secretary of the Forest and Waters Department, said yesterday that the report of a three-member, non-resident committee will be filed "within the next 3 or 4 weeks."

He recently named the committee to make a survey after several sportsmen's groups objected to present department policy which allows cutting of live trees in the park.

In other games, the league-leading Reading Indians edged the Wilkes-Barre Barons, 6-5, the Schenectady Blue Jays beat the Elmira Pioneers, 9-7, and the Binghamton Triplets nosed out the Albany Senators, 3-2.

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
BY FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
member S.E.E.

Summer must be here. Cars are again averaging several antique shops per gallon.

All Done With Hands

Believe it or not we are well into the era when you do not need your legs for driving a car. The impression is that full hand control is only for amputees, but such is not the case. With a few changes any car with automatic drive can be converted into full hand operation, leaving one's feet for the gentle business of kicking about high taxes.

Already on the market are hand controls of the throttle. Hand control for a power braking system is a relatively simple matter. The fact is that the brake pedal suspension of three of the current cars lends itself to simple attachment of an extension rod which can be pushed down by hand. A hand switch for the dimmer can be attached to the selector lever for the automatic drive.

Just Overdoing It

It seems a long while ago that I learned my lesson about over-tightening various parts of the car. On that Saturday afternoon I had crawled under my first car to give the chassis a good tightening only to twist off two transmission cap screws by applying too much leverage with a socket wrench. Next I broke the steering gear housing by over-tightening the nut that merely served to hold the steering ear adjusting nut in position. That not being enough I proceeded to draw down several of the cylinder head nuts until I sprung the head and invited a serious water leak at the gasket. That's the hard way. Today mechanics save themselves such headaches by using torque wrenches which prevent their exceeding the twisting limit. Without such aids you just have to keep reminding yourself that enough is enough. This also applies to the frequency of tightening. That was well illustrated in the days when all water pumps had an external packing gland and nut. A quick way to start a pump leak was to keep tightening the nut.

Something To Remember

That little can of fire extinguisher which many motorists carry in the luggage compartment can be used to dry off very wet ignition parts if the engine refuses to start.

The mechanical clutch still is very much in the picture, even on cars which do not have a clutch pedal. It is used in automatic transmissions as well as in torque converters, but is automatically operated by hydraulic pumps. In the semi-automatic transmission it is still a pedal operated unit, located just back of the fluid drive.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"I continue to be dismayed by the number of motorists who worry themselves over things that never will happen to them. Perfect illustration is the letter from a chap who, though his car is only in its 5,000th mile, assumes rivets are cutting the brake drums because there is so much brake squeal regardless of weather conditions. I am reminding him that on his car the brake linings are bonded to the shoes without any rivets at all!"

Tonight We Drive

It is unfortunate that so many people who believe they cannot drive at night do not realize what a difference there is between various kinds of night driving conditions. Even the experienced motorist knows that on some nights it is extremely easy and pleasant to drive. Most undesirable are rainy nights. Headlights seem most ineffective and it is not easy to see pedestrians. Clear cool nights make for excellent visibility. Then there are the moonlight nights when headlighting seems almost unnecessary. One thing that makes night driving especially appealing to many operators is the fact that lights eliminate the risk of blind driveways. You always know where the unseen car is coming from at night.

See What I Mean?

Anyone who still believes that automobiles today are more or less standardized ought to spend a few weeks trying to master some of the special needs of individual makes as outlined in the factory service manuals. I have in mind the lubrication of clutch and brake pedal mountings on one of the popular brands of cars. These are lubricated for the life of the car, but if any replacements are required or the parts are disassembled it is necessary to remove a brass plug located in the center of the key retaining plug and then install a lubrication fitting.

But here's the interesting angle: Unless care is taken when doing the job any excess of grease would drip down on the rubber boot which covers the front of the brake master cylinder. Mineral lubricant will damage the boot. A. A mighty fine question for a high school lad. The reason is that the engine draws smaller charges of gas at higher speeds. Q. I understand that the scoring of the brake cylinders on my car can be honed out. Does this mean that oversize pistons have to be used? J. N. M.

More On The Same

And speaking of the brake and clutch pedal shaft I am reminded to mention the situation on my own car which has no provision for lubricating these parts. The pedals ride on a special bushing and are held in position by large rubber washers secured by metal nuts. To check squealing here it is necessary to apply a few drops of brake fluid occasionally. This isn't mentioned at all in the service manual.

Checking A Weak Spot

That short piece of flexible hose between the main fuel line and the fuel pump often is quite a bad actor. A leak here will often have the effect of vapor lock by allowing air to be sucked into the pump. Oddly of such a leak is that gasoline will usually not run out of the weak spot. When the pump is operating fuel is being sucked through the pipe, and when the engine is switched off there is no pressure to force the fuel out.

Sometimes fuel pumps are needlessly discarded just because pressure lower than it should be. What happens is that the pump is drawing air along with the fuel and the output is decidedly sub-standard. Before condemning a pump always consider the possibility of need for a new flexible line.

Not Up To Par

Changes in car design always should be a tip-off to owners of older models. Take the case of brakes. This year many new models have larger brakes. More attention has been paid to drum construction, and linings have been designed for better cooling. If you reverse this you will find that many of the cars which have been kicking around for a few years are definitely lacking in adequate braking. So go easy on the brakes if they are not quite up to 1953 standards. Take downgrades slower. Keep in time with traffic.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Compression tests show that the piston rings in my car can leaky. I do not see how they can be gummy because I always use detergents oils. The motor was rebuilt about two months ago. J. L. H.

A. It might be well to consider possibility that the ring gaps are too wide.

Q. Will you please tell me why an engine develops less torque at higher engine speeds? They always rate maximum torque at some relatively low rpm such as 1500. T. H., Jr.

A. A mighty fine question for a high school lad. The reason is that the engine draws smaller charges of gas at higher speeds.

Q. I understand that the scoring of the brake cylinders on my car can be honed out. Does this mean that oversize pistons have to be used? J. N. M.

A. The amount of stock removed from the cylinders is so small you can use regular size brake pistons for completing the job.

Q. My car has an annoying habit of pulling to one side. Adjustments have been carefully checked. There is no grease or brake fluid on the linings. The car was purchased from a friend but I am not too sure what kind of service it received. W. M. F. K.

A. You may find that the brake lining isn't at all matched. I think it would pay you to have the two front brakes relined.

Q. Should brakes be adjusted with the drums hot or cold? T. H. A. Neither. Adjustments should be made with the drums cool. This would be about room temperature.

Q. Will you kindly tell me how wheel and tire out-of-balance is measured? F. H. McN.

A. This is usually expressed in inch-ounces. What a mechanic really does is to measure the number of ounces of unbalanced weight multiplied by the distance in inches from the weight to the center of the wheel.

Q. We have been having some discussions about front-wheel alignment at the shop. The question came up regarding the most important point in wheel alignment. One fellow believes that tie-in is the prime factor here and points to the fact that this used to be checked even before they had fancy alignment machines and all the present critical adjustments. Can you help us? T. H. K.

A. Just to stir up some excitement in your group get out your technical books and you'll find

Find Ways To Foil Police Radar Sets

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis police recently equipped a pair of squad cars with radar and since then many a speeder has been tripped by the blip. But science sometimes bows before human ingenuity.

Take the group of small boys that stood on the corner shouting at every car that passed:

"Hey! Police radar car ahead!" on Airways south of Lamar!"

And all along the busy street, the newsmen said, you could hear brakes squealing.

Ike's Truce Emissary Will Leave For Home On Monday

SEoul (AP)—President Eisenhower's truce emissary said today he has wound up his secret conferences with President Syngman Rhee and U. S. Embassy sources indicated Rhee had been won over to an armistice.

SEoul (AP)—President Eisenhower's truce emissary said today he and President Syngman Rhee have reached "no hard and fast agreement" but he is leaving for home tomorrow because "I feel my work is done here."

Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson said he has made substantial progress toward winning Rhee over to an armistice in more than two weeks of secret negotiations.

A South Korean source indicated the talks would continue at a different level.

Joint Announcement Coming

A joint communique on the conferences will be issued at 10 a. m. tomorrow (8 p. m. EST today). The statement originally was scheduled for release today, but a South Korean government spokesman said it was held up because "we have to work on it."

These new developments in the Korean truce tangle came a few hours after Allied and Communist negotiators met twice at Panmunjom to discuss final details of an armistice.

Rhee told newsmen Saturday he and Robertson had reached "a friendly understanding" on problems relating to a truce.

Robertson Satisfied

And while Robertson refused to comment on his talks with the stubborn old statesman, he appeared well satisfied with his mission as he talked with newsmen after a reception in his honor at the U. S. Embassy in Seoul.

Robertson said he would leave for Tokyo about 8:30 a. m. Sunday (6:30 p. m. EST today) and would confer Monday and Tuesday with Gen. Mark Clark, the U. N. commander, and Japanese officials. He said he would leave for Washington about Wednesday.

He declined to elaborate on his statement that no hard and fast agreement had been reached with Rhee.

No Full Agreement

The South Korean President indicated earlier that he and Robertson had not come to a full agreement.

"I think some more meetings will be held," he told a news conference, "but we have covered all the important points."

"I think a final decision will come from the United States."

SOUTHWEST IS PROMISED AID BY EISENHOWER

AMARILLO, TEX. (AP)—The drought-burned Southwest had the promise of President Eisenhower today that the government "will not dilly dally" while cattle starve on barren ranges.

But some ranchers were still convinced that price supports on cattle were the only way the cattle industry in the vast ranching states of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas and Colorado could survive after years of bitter drought.

Won't "Dilly Dally"

Cattlemen and farmers yesterday heard the President pledge the full assets of the federal government would be mobilized to help them. Six governors promised small farmers they would get the same aid extended cattlemen.

"And we will not dilly dally until the last cow is starving on the range," the President told nearly three thousand cheering men, women and children who packed a hot, muggy hall to put their desires and needs before the governors.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington to confer for nearly two hours with the governors of the six states in the drought area on ways to aid the farmers and ranchers. He brought with him Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson and his top assistant, Sherman Adams.

3 DEMOCRATIC SENATORS QUIT SEN. MCCARTHY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democratic senators stood fast today in their refusal to serve on Sen. McCarthy's investigations committee—a walkout decried by a Republican member as a possible "magic formula to stop all the work of Congress."

At the same time, J. B. Matthews, whose ouster as committee staff director is at the heart of the dispute, said he can name 7,000 Protestant clergymen he contends form the biggest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in America.

Matthews told a reporter he has names of Catholic priests and Jewish rabbis, too. But he said he didn't mention that in his American Mercury magazine article, because it dealt only with Protestants.

Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) announced he will accept the resignations of all three Democrats—Symington of Missouri, McClellan of Arkansas and Henry Jackson of Washington.

But Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.), next in line for the chairmanship, said he hoped the Democrats "would reconsider their somewhat impetuous action."

Police Investigate Theft Of Caskets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington police are working on a theft case in which the loot was buried—but not by the thieves.

The loot is about 80 coffins which police say were stolen by casket company employees and sold to undertakers. Four men were arrested.

PA. TAX PACKAGE ON FINE'S DESK FOR SIGNATURE

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP)—A $42 million dollar tax package, featuring the new 1 per cent sales tax, today headed for certain approval by Gov. John S. Fine after passing the Legislature.

The Senate took less than a half hour yesterday to clean up roll calls on the huge tax program, including the sales tax designed to raise 125 millions.

Only the sales tax—to go into effect Sept. 1—was opposed by Senate Democrats. The vote on that House-passed measure was 32-18, strictly along party lines.

Start Repeal Talk

Democrats opposed the sales tax both in the House and Senate as a matter of party principle, and injected the issue into next year's gubernatorial campaign.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, promised in the Senate yesterday that the No. 1 plank in the Democratic platform next year would be "the immediate repeal of this onerous tax."

Fine will receive the sales tax legislation and the remainder of the tax package after all are signed by Speaker Charles G. Smith in the House on Monday.

Other Tax Measures

Remaining components of the tax package, re-enacted to continue their effect for another two years, include:

Five per cent corporate net income tax—250 millions.
Six mills of the 14-mill gross receipts tax on public utilities—10 millions.
Postponing the manufacturers exemption from the 5-mill capital stock tax for another two years—29 millions.

Five-mill capital stock tax which now becomes an excise tax instead of a so-called property tax to enable corporations to claim increased federal income tax deductions—128 millions.

Okay GOP Legislation

Action to continue another levy—renewing the 6-mill gross receipts tax on bus and truck companies—was put off until Monday. This would yield 5 millions.

The Senate Finance Committee, ready to abandon a Democratic proposal for a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania, approved identical legislation sponsored by a Republican—Sen. John Carl Miller (R-Beaver).

The Democratic plan passed the house earlier in the week. Republicans, however, decided to scuttle the measure and push the plan through under their own name.

The proposal is in the form of a constitutional amendment. It would require passage by both the 1953 and 1955 sessions of the Legislature and approval by a vote of the people.

Lost On Amendments

Senate action in passing the sales tax came as an anti-climax to the 6-month fight in the House where the bill passed Wednesday by a margin of a single vote.

Senate Democrats attempted to add new exemptions to the tax in addition to the present important exclusions of food, clothing and shoes. Republicans beat them down without a struggle.

The Democrats wanted to exempt farm, industrial and mining machinery, religious articles as well as taxable items acquired by religious and charitable organizations.

The Democrats also lost a battle to keep a 1 per cent ceiling on the sales tax unless an increase is authorized by a voter of the people. Another of their amendment knocked down would have had the auditor general, rather than the revenue department, audit the tax collections.

Rehabilitation services helped public assistance rolls in Pennsylvania last year. Many of them had dependents who also were on relief rolls because of their disability. All told, they were receiving $762,684 a year in public aid.
